A Letter From the President to the Class of 2014

Dear class of 2014,

It has been a pleasure serving you as your class president for the past two years. I wanted to thank you all for the amazing memories that we have shared together in the halls of BHS. This time that we have spent together is a time that we will not soon forget. I hope that in all of your next steps in life, you all will continue to do amazing things. We have the power to change this world that we live in and I know that the Class of 2014 will be able to make changes that no one else will. I hope that you will never forget where you come from and that you know you will always have roots in Belmont High. Continue to inspire others and make this world a better place. Thanks to all of you for all that you have done. You have made my experience a very happy one. Being able to represent your class has been an absolute honor and a privilege.

Here's to an amazing 4 years! I will see you all at the reunions!

~El Presidente

"You can do whatever you want, you just have to know what that is."

- Abed Nadir

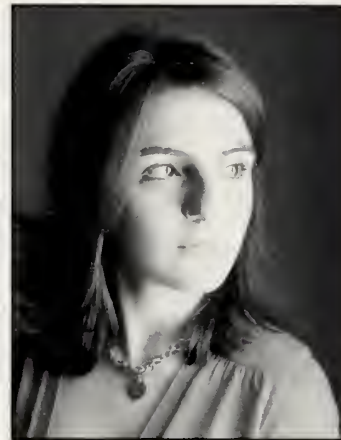

Lia Affandilian

"Promise me you'll always remember: You're braver than you believe, and stronger than you seem, and smarter than you think."

Thanks to all my teachers, coaches, teammates, and friends.

Congratulations class of 2014!

Maria Airapetian

"Do not accept the roles that society foists on you.

Re-create yourself by forging a new identity, one that commands attention and never bores the audience. Be the master of your own image rather than letting others define it for you."

Robert Greene

Aurelle Albano

Bears are really nice and fluffy.

P.S. I love everybody.

Shouts to my basketball, tennis and cheer peeps.

Thanks to the absolute crew that is the class of 2014. Couldn't have asked for a better grade.

"America was not built on fear. America was built on courage, on imagination and an unbeatable determination to do the job at hand."

Samarah Anderson

"Great minds discuss ideas, average minds discuss events, small minds discuss people"

-Eleanor Roosevelt

Gina Arciprete

"Every song has it's ending, but that's no reason not to enjoy the music"

Thanks Mom, Dad, Mike and Johnny for everything, and thank you to my amazing friends for an unforgettable 4 years.

Good luck class of 2014!

Danielle Ramos

"Your memory is a monster; you forget—it doesn't. It simply files things away. It keeps things for you, or hides things from you—and summons them to your recall with will of its own. You think you have a memory; but it has you."

Sarah Ramsey

Remember to be happy. I consider a life well spent if it is filled with laughter and smiles. When you are down, smile, and when you are up, smile even bigger. If a smile doesn't help, drink coffee, eat chocolate, or swim in the ocean. Thanks to the best family and friends. I love you all.

In life we do things. Some we wish we hadn't. Some we wish we could replay in our head. But they all make us who we are & they shape every detail about us. If we were to reverse any of them we wouldn't be the same. So just live, make mistakes, have wonderful memories. But never second guess who you are, where you've been & most importantly where it is you're going.

Working to Help the Homeless

BHS Vocab

Looamh – created and perfected in collaborative effort by Keith Burns and Scott Stewart; used when an individual wants to draw attention to another person's overly ostentatious and/or strange behavior/actions ("Look at him").

Lum – a shortened version of the "Looamh" and used more commonly among a myriad of Belmont folk. It is a rather passive form of Looamh but has nearly identical intentions and effect. Example: "that dude just stole my pumpernickel! Wow, kid's a lum".

Luh – The most succinct form of the "looamh". The luh is more suitable in a public setting as it deters from drawing unnecessary attention to one's lummy actions. Can be used in quick successive bursts Pterodactyl – A high-pitched shrieking tribute to the Mitchell often heard during Orange mods.

Screaming Banana – A supersaturated trifacta burst of pure auditory stimulation; originally meant to awaken the Reagan as it lay dormant in its cave.

Bakh – a blunt and affirmative remark established by Tom Cunningham used to portray utter discontent and disagreement. Coined in the early Chenery days, bakh has a profound ability to refute just about any statement. Common uses include "bakh-ing" a teacher when she tells you there is homework over vacation.

Shuph [shup] – A quick and discrete passing remark used in order to express an individual's desire for the cessation of another individual's speech. (Nunny)

Huph [hup] – A louder and more prominent variant of "shuph". It is commonly used to demonstrate a blatant yearning for the relinquishment of another person's speech or action.

Neeeeeeeh – Meaning "not a chance."

Mitchell [mich-uuuuuuuh-l]:

1. (noun) – A Belmont High student who has reached the utmost level of legendary status. Rumor has it that he cruises the streets of Belmont in the infamous Durango while simultaneously sweeping ladies straight off their feet as he passes by.
2. (verb) – A means by which Belmont High students may greet fellow Belmontians.
3. (noun) – The most prominent attempt of students uniting against the totalitarian authority of the library.
4. (verb) – The spiritual calling in which the name Mitchell is rambunctiously yelled as to attract attention among fellow peers or bystanders with the intention in mind of disrupting the paradigmatic aura that may be engulfing the given environment at that moment in time. Cases of Mitchells have been recorded in various parts of North America and Europe, including in hotels, houses, restaurants, museums, airplanes, upon mountaintops, during sporting events and Belmont Idol competitions, and in very rare circumstances, the library. "Let fly" "Let one float" "Absolutely belt one" and "Pierce the night" are common phrases used to signal a Mitchell.

YAO – The rarest element of all BHS library lingo. Legend has it that its debut set such groundbreaking precedent that it could never be used again without reaching catastrophic consequences. Its true form has only ever shown face once or twice, but common folk often emulate its powers through much quieter and playful variants as to reminisce of its glory.

Door (Out) - When an individual is so dumbfounded by another person's comment, that the only appropriate response is to request that individual's immediate evacuation from the premissis. Typically, various exits are suggested, regardless of the absurdity.
